Connect, share and broadcast like never before. Welcome to the new line of connected products. Explore innovative software. Discover powerful new ways of working with ECD, the new RS485 communication device. Stay in the ELCO world. And more.

Even better together. In even more ways.

Keep connect with ELCO Eye

The new mind of the Sphere Line.
The software that manages to give strong emotions.

Connect together

One software to connect all devices.

Discovery Mode

You can find ELCO devices present throughout the network. You just need one click.

Universal Control

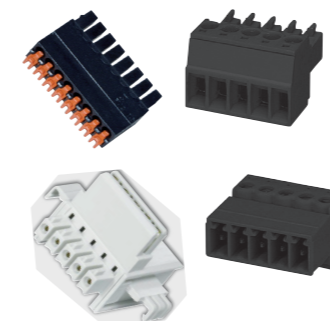

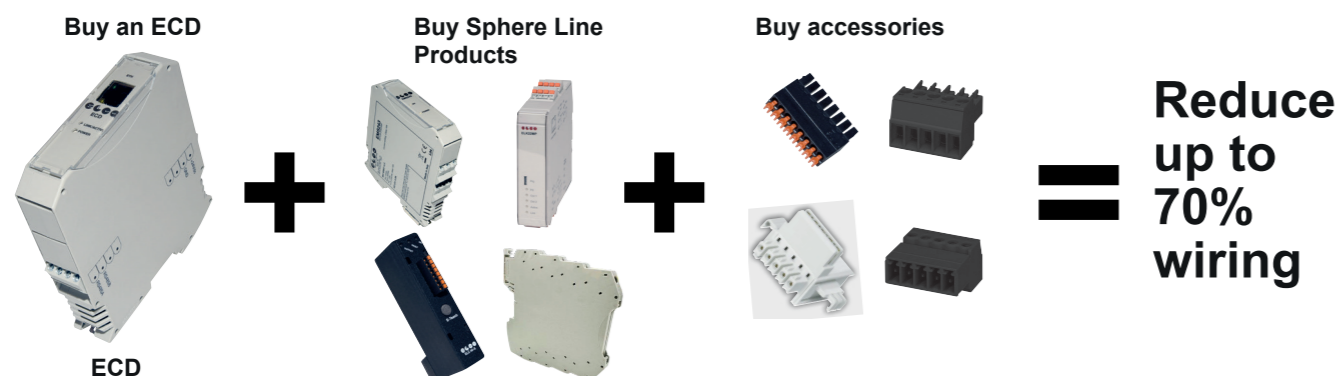

A product.
An emotion.
You can control the Sphere Line via ECD, the new TCP-RTU Gateway.

Same Connection

The bus carries the Modbus RTU protocol, unique for all devices.
You can communicate in the same way.

Your next adventure starts here.

Organize with accessories

Connect the products with unique accessories.

Easy Supply

The new distributed power supply system guarantees the possibility of powering a single product and through our bus to supply the power up to 16 modules.
Each product with EASY SUPPLY technology can be connected to each other.
